TES 2014 Concludes with Prize Presentation and Exhibition

The inspiring student learning project “TES 2014”, organized by Wai Yin Association, has come to a close with a prize presentation ceremony held on 11 September, amid a colourful setting of iconic English landmarks located at Level LG2, Festival Walk, Kowloon Tong. “TES Exhibition”, the students’ travel experience in England in the summer depicted by photographs and videos they produced, goes on at the same venue until 21 September. Alternately, their experiences can be visited anytime through the TES blog: www.waiyin.org.hk/tes2014/, under “Team Blog”, click the “f” icon to enter into schools’ individual Facebook pages.

At the ceremony five prizes were awarded to honour the Best Team, the Best Presentation for team and for individual, the Best Photo and Creative Blog. Winners were:

- St. Mark's School, Shau Kei Wan • CHAN Wing Hei
- Ying Wa Girls' School, Sham Shui Po • SIU Wing Man

Award presenting guests were Mr. Kenny Wong, Chairman, Intellectual Property Committee, Law Society of Hong Kong / External Examiner & Adjunct Associate Professor, University of Hong Kong; Ms Sandra Cheng, General Manager, Mapletree Greater China Property Management Limited; Mr. Joseph Fung, Programme Coordinator and Lecturer, PGD in Photography, SPACE, University of Hong Kong; Mr. Wilson Yuen, Founder & Director, TFI Digital Media Limited; Mrs. Eleanor Morris, Social Etiquette Advisor; Wai Yin Association's Ms Ellen Wong (Chairman, Board of Trustees), Ms Monica Chan (President, Executive Committee 2014/2015), Ms Hoyan Mok (Former President), Ms Jacqueline Lam (Chief Judge, Creative Blog Award), and Ms Loletta Chu (Project Head, TES 2014).

Ms Chu expressed gratitude to all guests, donors, sponsors, schools, parents and the media, particularly to the students for their diligence.

“We are all touched to witness the progress of our TES students,” she said. “They have grown more confident, more considerate, and more pro-active and they glow with the joy of new experiences, self-improvement and achievement.

She hoped that with the positive changes in them, the students would continue to develop their potentials to become future leaders in their chosen fields.

Third year in its running, TES, standing for Travel Experience Share, is an educational project to provide motivated students from less privileged families an opportunity to travel overseas to experience a different culture and share their adventures through daily blogging. Twelve school teams, each comprised three students and a teacher, researched and planned their own study focuses, itineraries and budgets and realized them in a 14-day trip through several English cities between July 10 and 24, 2014. Over 135,000 visitors had logged on during this fortnight to share their experience in lifestyle, women’s rights, scout movement, literature, films, graffiti and street art, football phenomenon and food and tea culture.
